The Devil's School lies down this way. Lot's wife knows your name. Hearts hang in the scales, flesh and clay are one and the same, and the severed head of Orpheus sings in winter waves. In award-winning poet Sonya Taaffe's first collection of short fiction, the boundaries between worlds dissolve to reveal unmasked harlequins and women made of stars, serpentine plagues and New England storm gods, and many other denizens of the spaces between. A former detective investigates a deadly diamond heist among New York 's Hassidic community in this "big, bright and successfully old-fashioned" thriller (Publishers Weekly). Dov Taylor is an ex-cop. He 's also an ex-husband, ex-drinker, and ex-observant Jew. The way he sees it, he doesn 't have much to offer anybody. So he 's surprised when he gets a summons from a rabbi in Brooklyn: A Hassidic man has been murdered during the theft of a priceless diamond, and the rabbi believe Dov is the man to solve the crime. Why Dov? Generations ago, his ancestor was a famous Polish mystic—a zaddik—revered for his ability to discern the truth. Perhaps some of that wisdom would whisper down the decades and help Dov see what others cannot. Despite his skepticism, Dov soon finds himself heading deep into Manhattan ’ s Diamond District, the feuding of rival Hassidic clans, and a family connection to the missing diamond that reaches back to Napoleonic Poland.

Sometimes a ghost of a chance is all you get. Award-winning author Chris Moriarty returns to a dazzling cyber-noir far future in this gritty, high-stakes thriller where the only rule is “ Evolve . . . or die. ” The Age of Man is ending. The UN ’ s sprawling interstellar empire is failing as its quantum teleportation network collapses, turning once-viable colonies into doomed island outposts. Humanity ’ s only hope of survival is the Drift: a mysterious region of space where faster-than-light travel—or something far stranger—seems possible. As mercenaries and pirates flock to the Drift, the cold war between the human-led UN and the clone-dominated Syndicates heats up. Whoever controls the Drift will chart the future course of human evolution—and no one wants to be left behind in a universe where the price of failure is extinction. When the AI called Cohen ventures into the Drift, he dies—allegedly by his own hand—and his consciousness is scattered across the cosmos. Some of his ghosts are still self-aware. Some are insane. And one of them hides a secret worth killing for. Enter Major Catherine Li, Cohen ’ s human (well, partly human) lover, who embarks on a desperate search to solve the mystery of Cohen ’ s death—and put him back together. But Li isn ’ t the only one interested in Cohen ’ s ghosts. Astrid Avery, a by-the-book UN navy captain, is on the hunt. So is William Llewellyn, a pirate who has one of the ghosts in his head, which is slowly eating him alive. Even the ghosts have their own agendas. And lurking behind them all is a pitiless enemy who will stop at nothing to make sure the dead don ' t walk again. Praise for Ghost Spin “ Complexity is the watchword here, of thought, idea, narrative, character and plot. . . . Highly rewarding. ” —Kirkus Reviews “ Rewarding . . . The adaptations humans make to survive in the hostile environments of other worlds, a galaxy teetering on the edge of singularity . . . are genuinely visionary. ” —Publishers Weekly “ This stand-alone ‘ spin-off ’ offers a compelling tale of adventure/suspense blended with cybernoir and high-tech sf. ” —Library Journal “ An excellent read: gripping, fast-paced, provocative and handsome. ” —Tordotcom “ A brilliant mix of space opera, cyberpunk, and just plain great writing, Moriarty ’ s work is some of the most impressive in science fiction today. ” —SFRevu

Sadie and her four little brothers are very poor and always hungry. On the first night of Chanukah, Sadie performs a generous act, and in turn receives a frying pan that cooks up sizzling hot, golden latkes on command.
